

Informed Consent of Naturopathic Medical Care

Welcome to Cary Holistic Health. This clinic utilizes the principles of naturopathic medicine, helping identify obstacles to healing & promoting the body's own ability to achieve its natural state of health.

Naturopathic medicine offers a customized approach to health care. Naturopathic Doctors assess the whole person and recommendations are tailored to suit individual needs. Gentle, non-invasive techniques are generally used to stimulate the body's inherent healing capacity. Therapies used by a Naturopathic Doctor may include: Clinical nutrition, Botanical medicine, Homeopathic medicine, Lifestyle counselling, Hydrotherapy and Physical medicine. Under current North Carolina law, Naturopathic medicine is not deemed the practice of medicine and is not regulated by state law. However, naturopathic medicine is considered a complement to traditional allopathic medicine.

Clinical nutrition examines the relationship between diet and health. Special diets may be recommended. Other recommendations may include nutritional supplements such as vitamins, minerals, enzymes and other nutraceuticals.

Botanical medicine (herbal medicine) uses plant substances for their healing effects and nutritional value. Plant substances may be prescribed as teas, tinctures, capsules or decoctions (strong teas) to be taken internally or used externally as a wash, poultice, or salve.

Homeopathic medicine is based on the principle of "like cures like" and uses minute amounts of natural substances to stimulate the self-healing abilities of the body.

Lifestyle counselling involves identifying risk factors and helping patients to make informed choices to reach and maintain optimal health.

Hydrotherapy refers to the use of water applications to the body.

Physical Medicine includes the use of hands-on techniques to manipulate the spine, joints and soft tissues. Therapeutic use of light, heat and cold, massage and ultrasound may also be incorporated into treatment.

Your Naturopathic Doctor will take a thorough case history. Assessment of each patient's physical, mental, emotional, spiritual and environmental well-being is required to facilitate this work. A basic/complaint-oriented physical exam and specific urine and/or blood laboratory tests and/or reports may be used as part of the work-up.
